'To whom will all this wealth of your go?'

Luke 12: 13-21

From the crowd, a man called out to Jesus asking for help in a family matter. The man wanted his share of the family inheritance from his brother. Jesus first made it clear that he was not the man's arbitrator and refused to enter the quarrel. But Jesus did use the opportunity to teach the crowd that placing too much emphasis on the acquisition of material wealth would lead to greed and greed would lead to conflicts in families. Jesus continued by making the point that true security did not exist in a surplus of goods when he relayed a parable about a man who had a bumper crop. So huge was the harvest's yield that the man decided to tear down his storage buildings and build new ones to hold all his grain. Once everything was stored, the man would have no worries and could spend his life without care. But God demanded the man's life that night and we are left to wonder what good did all the abundance do the man?

How many families do we know about, sadly maybe our own, who have been injured and separated by financial issues. One person expects a portion of an inheritance but doesn't receive it. Maybe some unexpected person benefits from a family member's generosity and leaves a brother, sister, or child feeling neglected or overlooked. As parents we want to make the lives of our children comfortable and so we go about accumulating wealth and material possessions, but this week's Gospel cautions us to beware of placing importance in the wrong places. We have no idea what will happen to our accumulations, but we do know God's promise that if we are prepared at the moment our lives are recalled, we will have wealth beyond measure in heaven.

This week, make a list of all the 'extra' things your family has. Most likely the list will be extensive. What things on this list bring your family security? (Remember there's nothing wrong with taking care of our families and building security!) Now imagine that a great disaster has been predicted for tomorrow and there's a good chance you won't be here the next day. Which of these things are now important? Is there anything you would alter on the list knowing that you only have a couple days left on this earth? When you have finished, ask each person what changes he/she might make in his/her life because of this exercise and then help or support one another in those changes.

Peace and Joy!

Sacramental news:

Next Tuesday 6th August is the Eucharist Family Workshop. If your child is celebrating their Eucharist, please make sure that you attend the Family Workshop commencing at 7.00pm in the Community Room at SFS. Look forward to seeing you there!

"Familiar acts are beautiful through love."

Tuesday 6th August is the Feast of the Transfiguration of the Lord.

The Feast of the Transfiguration recalls and celebrates Jesus' revelation of his divinity to three of his friends: Peter, James, and John who went up on a high point on Mount Tabor. According to the Gospel accounts, Jesus took the three disciples onto the mountain to pray. While they were praying, Jesus' appearance was changed by a brilliant white light that radiated from him and his clothing. Moses and Elijah, the greatest prophets of the Old Testament, appeared with Jesus, and a voice came from heaven, saying, "This is my beloved Son. Listen to him."

As a family, spend some time praying a decade of the Luminous mysteries (the Transfiguration, of course) with your kids. Then, serve vanilla ice cream for dessert, reminding your kids that Jesus' face and clothing were whiter than snow (represented by the ice cream).

Paper Sculpture

Last week the junior students twisted, rolled and folded paper to create their own paper sculptures. It was amazing to see all the different ways the students could do these skills to create their wonderful pieces of art and how they solved different problems in arranging and sticking their pieces together. Below are some of the Preps from RJ and their fabulous sculptures.

I learned that sculptures can be made out of different things. I liked making a spring by folding my paper.

Rania

I liked the square fold with two pieces of paper because it was my favourite one to make.

Gavin

I liked how I learned how to make a paper spring and how to make the paper go on the sides.

Tom

I made a town for my paper sculpture. I learnt how to do interesting things with paper.

Evie.

Week 3 Production News

Sound Engineer Recording

Michael Lawton (sound engineer) recorded each Home Group singing their song for the 2019 Productions today. The purpose of recording vocals is because it is quite easy to forget to sing while performing. It was an incredible experience for the children as well as the staff! I was taken away with how well the children performed. Michael commented on how amazing the children were singing and how well behaved they were. I will be receiving a copy of the recordings in the next week and each Home Group will be rehearsing with these copies.

Costumes

Children's costumes are required for the in school dress rehearsals (prior to the production) on the following dates:

Juniors: Friday 6th September

Seniors: Monday 16th September

If you have already prepared your costume and want to check with your Home Group teacher, you are more than welcome to bring it in.

I encourage parents to start preparing these as soon as possible - as we know, time flies by way too quickly! If you have any issues sourcing the costumes indicated on the letters provided in March/end of last term, please let me know as soon as possible. I encourage families to check what children already have in their cupboards. Otherwise, Best and Less, Kmart and Big W are all great places if you are looking to purchase cheap clothing items.

Try Booking Ticketing Information distributed today

Information regarding ticketing sales is attached to this email – please see for further detail.

Bus found to move props

BeYou is a resource and framework which provides educators with knowledge, resources and strategies for helping children achieve their best possible mental health. At SFS, we are a very multicultural school, which makes our school unique and special. This week's fact sheet from the BeYou website is on why culture is so important and how it is linked to mental health.

Why is culture important

Australia's rich cultural diversity is one of our greatest strengths

We're home to the oldest continuing living culture in the world – Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people make up 2.8% of the Australian population, represented by hundreds of different traditional groups. The beliefs, practices, ceremonies and customs within these groups can be quite diverse.

Over a quarter of resident Australians were born overseas

Migration has also contributed to the richness in diversity of cultures, ethnicities and races in Australia. Nearly half were either born overseas or had one or both parents born overseas, and there are over 300 separately identified languages spoken in Australian homes. More than one-fifth of Australians speak a language other than English at home.

So you'll have contact with families from different cultural backgrounds

Children and young people in your care will form friendships, learn with and interact with people from many cultures different to their own. When children and young people grow up to understand, appreciate and respect the cultural, racial and ethnic diversity around them, we gain a positive and accepting community, which benefits everyone.

This benefits individuals because when people feel accepted, respected and included, they have better mental health. Children and young people develop the skills and attitudes that will assist them in their relationships and working life, which contribute to their social and emotional wellbeing.

It also benefits communities, as environments where people enjoy positive mental health are more pro-social and more productive.

mConnect and Wellsprings for women

The next M connect group meeting will be on Friday 23rd August at 11.30am in the community room. This will be straight after the P and F morning tea. The topic for this session will be healthy cooking, looking at family meals and preparing healthy lunches and snacks for kids. All parents are most welcome to attend.

Please RSVP to rlenko@sfslynbrook.catholic.edu.au if you would like to attend. After the recent success of our term 2 holiday excursion, we are planning a term 3 excursion with families to a local traffic school. Stay tuned for further information. The M Connect group is a group where all are welcome, which gives parents a chance to meet with other parents, learn something new, have some fun and connect with the school. If you would like further information, please do not hesitate to speak with me.

Also just a reminder, Wellsprings for women (based in Dandenong) offer a free study support group every Wednesday during the school term, from 4-5pm. Please see me if you would like any further information.

MS Readathon Kick Off

The MS Readathon launched on Thursday 1st August and the activities run all month.

The Reading Record Sheet went out last week – if you have not received it please speak to your home group teacher. Students need to record the name of the book, rate it out of 5 and a parent will sign it off.

Aside from the weekly challenges that we will be setting, there is also the fund raising aspect of the initiative. This is completely voluntary. The main goal of the Readathon is celebrate reading and get the students more engaged with books. Sponsors can either choose to donate a set amount or pledge an amount per book read. All funds raised go to a great cause supporting kids who have a parent with MS. Once again the fund raising is optional, we really just want to encourage the students to read more.
